Cancer Connect

We're here to help all people affected by cancer

Support when you need it.

Cancer Connect

is a free service provided by The Cancer Council South Australia, which can put you in touch with others who have had a similar cancer experience.

It is a confidential service staffed by volunteers who are trained to assist you.

Cancer Connect Volunteers have experienced cancer or cared for someone with cancer. We will match you to a volunteer who has had a similar experience, which may include;

- ◆ a similar age
- ◆ a similar cancer experience
- ◆ or who may have returned to work.

We will respond to your enquiry by finding out what is important to you. Once we know your needs, we can match you with one of our volunteers, and he/she will telephone you at a suitable time.

Cancer Connect

can provide an opportunity for you to talk with someone who has experienced cancer and knows what it is like to have a life-threatening illness. We can assist with information, provide emotional support or, simply listen.

About Us

Every day around 22 South Australians are diagnosed with cancer, a disease that will directly affect one in three people at some time in their lives.

Being diagnosed with cancer can dramatically change a person's life. However, it's not only the person diagnosed with cancer that feels the impact and needs help - family, carers and friends also need information, support, and encouragement.

As the state's leading non-government organisation, The Cancer Council South Australia is dedicated to helping people understand cancer, the progress being made in the search for a cure, and the informed choices each person can make.

“ Having been through cancer myself and knowing the fears it produces, it's good to be able to help others get through it, too. ”
